

Philosophy in the Modern Islamic World

Scholarly Network

Philosophy, the Political, and Politics of Translation in the Modern Islamic World

International conference organized by the scholarly network Philosophy in the Modern Islamic World

Berlin, 10-12 March 2025

The translation of philosophical works is a complex process that involves linguistic, cultural, historical, and political considerations. In the MENA region, translation has shaped philosophical concepts and currents, influenced by colonialism and power dynamics. Philosophers have grappled with the nature and meaning of translation, exploring its relationship to concepts, language, and culture. The conference will address various aspects of translation in philosophy, including concept construction, historical translation phenomena, and the politics of translation. By examining these aspects, the conference aims to understand the implications of translation for the study of philosophy in the MENA region.

Monday, 10.3.2025

@ZMO Berlin, Kirchweg 33

10:45–11:10 Welcome address, about the network,
about this conference

Kata Moser and Roman Seidel

Critical views on the praxis of translation

Chair: Mansooreh Khalilizand

11:10–12:10 Epistemic Justice, Inter-epistemology, and the Politics of Translation

Mahmoud Al Zayed

12:20–13:20 Revolution in Translation

Milad Odabaei

13:20–15:30 (lunch) break @ZMO

Case studies on the notion of translation

Chair: Nils Riecken

Platonism in Iran After the 1953 Coup

Rouzchehr Mosaheb (unable to participate)

In and Into World: On Translating Husserl's
Ichpol in Muhammad Al-Fayyad's *Filsafat
Negasi* [Philosophy of Negation]

Dylan Fagan (unable to participate)

Linguistic Purism, Ideal Language, and the Urge for Language Transformation: A Close
Examination of Mir Šamsaddīn Adīb-
Soltānī's Translation Project

Seyedali Taghavinassab

Translation and interpretation in Contemporary Moroccan philosophical thought:
Mohammed Aziz Lahbabi, Abdullah Laroui
and Taha Abderrahman

Youssef Ben Addi (unable to participate)

iftar/dinner reception @ZMO

In cooperation with

supported by

Philosophy in the Modern Islamic World

Scholarly Network

Tuesday, 11.3.2025

@Katholische Akademie Berlin, Hannoversche Str. 5

Translation disrupting hegemonial discourse formations

Chair: Anke von Kügelgen

9:00–10:00 Dissent in Translation: Encountering Marginalization with the İslâm-Türk Ansiklopedisi (1940-1948)

Lale Diklitaş

10:10–11:10 Translation as Counter Discourse: Rausyan Fikr and Reframing Islamic Thought in Contemporary Indonesia

Aulia Rakhmat

11:20–12:20 Translation and Vocationalism: “Die Bestimmung” in Translating Fichte’s Works into Persian

Maysam Sefidkhosh

12:20–13:10 (lunch) break @Katholische Akademie

Colonial and orientalist translations

Chair: Reza Pourjavady

13:10–14:10 Translating the Colonized: French Translation of Islamic Theological Works in North Africa in The Colonial Period

Youssef Madrari

14:20–15:20 German Orientalism and the Politics of Translating Islamic Philosophy in the Modern Islamic World

Amit Kumar Sharma

15:40–17:40 ZMO/CO²LIBRI panel on translating theory

Beyond Russian: Translating a Tatar Source into Ukrainian

Diliara Bileva

Are old Tatar religious-philosophical texts ‘untranslatable’?

Leila Almazova

Problem of Translating Mukhibodh’s “Third Moment”

Max Kramer (unable to participate)

Translating Sheikh Mazru’i’s first Swahili Islamic pamphlets

Kai Kresse

17:50–19:00 iftar/dinner @Katholische Akademie

19:00 Network panel on translating philosophy (not public)

with Anke von Kügelgen and other network members

Wednesday, 12.3.2025

@Katholische Akademie Berlin, Hannoversche Str. 5

Translation in socio-political contexts

Chair: Nayereh Mirmousa

9:00–10:00 A Case Study in Qajar Intellectual History: Translating Descartes Through an Ottoman Eye

Mert Aydemir

10:10–11:10 Through ‘Inwardness’ towards Perpetual Peace: The Politics of Uthman Amin’s Translations of Descartes and Kant

Michael Frey

11:20–12:20 Translation and political feminine thought: Hanna Arendt in Persian

Zeinab Hosseini

12:20–13:10 (lunch) break @Katholische Akademie

Renewal through translation

Chair: Pascale Roure

13:10–14:10 Muhammad Iqbal: Reading the Koran in the Language of Bergson

Ndiaga Diop

14:20–15:20 The Role of Translation in the Emergence of Modern Arabic Novel: Mawāqī‘ al-aflāk fi waqā‘i‘ Tilimāk as an Example

Amany Elhefnawy

Persianization and Philosophy: The Influence of the Persianization Movement on Contemporary Translations of Philosophical Texts

Maryam Kheradmand (unable to participate)

15:30–16:30 Defending the Tradition through Translation: Babanzāde Aḥmad Na‘īm and His Philosophical Translations

Cüneyt Kaya

16:40–17:40 Proceedings, projects, prospects

17:50–19:00 iftar/dinner @Restaurant t.b.a. farwell

In cooperation with

supported by

GEORG-AUGUST-UNIVERSITÄT
GÖTTINGEN